*Wesleyan College
Macon, Georgia
Volume 73*

*I believe that children are our future;
teach them well and let them lead
the way.
Show them all the beauty they possess inside.
Give them a sense of pride, to make it easier;
let the children's laughter remind us how we used to be.*

*I decided long ago never to walk in anyone's shadow.
If I fail, if I succeed, at least I lived
as I believe.
No matter what they take from me,
they can't take away my dignity.*

*Because the greatest love of all is happening to me.
I found the greatest love of all inside of me.
The greatest love of all is easy to achieve.
Learning to love yourself is the greatest love of all.*

*Everybody's searching for a hero;
people need someone to look up to.
I never found anyone who fulfilled
my need.*

*A lonely place to be, and so I learned to depend on me.
And if by chance that special place that you've been dreaming of leads you to a lonely place, find your strength in love.*

*The Greatest Love of All
by Linda Creed*

For the seniors, dedicating the yearbook to a specific faculty member is a token of appreciation and admiration. It is fitting then for the Golden Hearts to dedicate the 1987 Vetteropt to DR. JACOB S. QUIAMBAO, Methodist Minister, Manget Professor of Philosophy, and Head of the Religion Department at Wesleyan.

What can be said about Dr. Quiambao that has not been voiced many times before? It was no accident that he was chosen to be the advisor to the Golden Hearts for fourteen of his fifteen years at Wesleyan because he houses the "Golden Heart" in that lively body of his. No one who has ever met Dr. Quiambao can forget him, particularly the people at Wesleyan whose lives he has touched so closely.

Students, present and past, remember him in different ways. To those who accompanied him on Wesleyan-sponsored trips to the Holy Land, he was a solicitous and knowledgeable guide. In the classroom, he impressed students with his zeal and genuine belief in the material he covered. His different pronunciation of some of the words in the Bible and other material was uniquely his, and endeared him to the hearts of his listeners. Students who did not have him in class knew Dr. Quiambao because he was everywhere on campus — in the Snack Bar, at all the programs presented by the College, and at the soccer and basketball games. He had a genial smile and a good word for everyone, and he was tireless in sharing his friendliness. He met no strangers and, as a result, extended his popularity far beyond the confines of Wesleyan. He has been active in ministering at local churches, and in speaking engagements at public and civic functions. The mere mention of Wesleyan to outsiders immediately brought forth the question, "Do you know Dr. Quiambao?" His name was a definite icebreaker in starting the ball of conversation rolling among newly introduced people.

This is the year that Dr. Quiambao retires from teaching at Wesleyan. His position on the faculty will be a difficult one to fill. Another person will be selected for the position, but no one will ever take his place in the hearts of his students. This feeling of belonging to students was evidenced in a concrete way when several of his past students banded together to solicit funds for the establishment of the Jacob S. Quiambao Scholarship Award to be given to a deserving student. Dr. Quiambao had the privilege of selecting the first recipient and of presenting the award to her at Honors Day Convocation.

Dr. Quiambao will be remembered for his indefatigable service to Wesleyan and to the Macon community at large, and for his loyalty to his homeland, the Philippines. But his pride in being a United States citizen overrides everything else. Indeed, he has made a valuable imprint on the area, and this impact will always be remembered and cherished.

The Golden Hearts of 1987 salute Dr. Jacob S. Quiambao — our advisor and inspiration.

Faculty

the President

Dr. Ackerman has proven himself to be an effective leader and administrator since his assuming the duties of the twenty-second President of Wesleyan in June, 1984. Under his able guidance during the 1986-1987 academic year, the College has increased its enrollment by 16%; endowments have skyrocketed; and Convocation programs have included national figures such as Betty Ford, former First Lady; Helen Thomas, United Press Washington correspondent; Four-Star General John R. Galvin, newly appointed Supreme Allied Commander of NATO; and United States Senator Samuel A. Nunn, Jr., senior Senator from Georgia; just to mention a few.

Besides being an outstanding leader and administrator, Dr. Ackerman is a man for all people. He can be seen on campus daily talking informally with students; he has an enviable rapport with his staff and administrative staff; and he is a gracious host when entertaining the mighty and the "good, old folks" at the Bradley House. His genial smile is contagious and communicates to people that he genuinely likes them and is interested in their pursuits.

He is definitely the right man in the right place. Long may he serve Wesleyan as her President.

Green Knight Class Has Exciting Junior Year

From becoming big sisters to the new Purple Knight freshman class to winning both the Spirit Cup and the Stunt Cup on Stunt Night, the Green Knight class had a truly busy and promising year. Class President Karen Melton admitted that while there was a lot more to being President than she originally thought, holding the office turned out to be a lot of fun, and she enjoyed assigning

Big Sisters to the freshmen. Stated Karen, "I would have to say that the most exciting part of being President this year was being able to serve on the Stunt Committee and helping to lead the Green Knights to a double-cup win on Stunt Night. I really feel that this year has been a great one not only for me but for the entire GK class."

Oh, well, it's up with the banners bright
Cheer on the gold and white,
Golden Hearts are out for the victory
And for our dear old class,
We'll do our best
And we'll always beat all the rest,
Rah, rah, rah,

Here's to the Golden Hearts,
We'll shout with glee
For we will win the victory,
So, lets, raise high the banners
And we'll let them fly,
For we love you our senior class.

Rat-a-tat
Rat-a-tat
BOOM!

Three weeks into the school year, just when the freshmen think they can go home, the sophomore class (the Tri-K's) come up with a week full of surprises, as they prepare to initiate the Purple Knights into the sisterhood of Wesleyan. The ordeal begins when the Tri-K's raided a Pep Rally for the P.K.'s given by the Green Knights! This raid kicked off a bizarre chain of events that lasted a week. Many strange happenings took place such as the Blood Feast, the Haunted House, and the Death March. Friday was Friendship Day and the P.K.'s actually thought the initiation was over. However, Saturday morning came very early as the freshmen were auctioned off for an interesting price. The full day ended with the traditional Life March and the Purple Knights became sisters of Wesleyan.

1. Lowliest Leslie Dickens lets "the drum roll out" to signify the official opening of Rat Week. 2. Lowly Tianne Wingate makes sure no purple appears in the freshman dorm. 3. Tri-K lowlies prepare for Rat Olympics.

Rat Begins!

1. The P.K. pyramid. 2. Octavia Hill and Casady Leuwinski are confused — is it really over? 3. Big Sis, Jody Bethea, and her little sisters survive the whole ordeal.

1. Lowliest Leslie Dickens leads the Tri-K's in the Death March. 2. Tri-k's harass P.K.'s during Blood Feast. 3. Deana Carlisle and Karen Melton oversee initiation activities.

"It's Over!"

1. The transition from black garb to white in the cheerful Life March marks the end of Rat Week. 2. A smiling Karene Harron and her roommate, Sally Mosely, sure are glad it's over! 3. P.K. lowliest, Virginia Bowman, can still smile at the end of the tiresome week. 4. Angie Parks and Joella Haskell demonstrate the proper way for "rats" to eat.

Theatre Performance

The Arkansaw Bear

by Airand Harris

1. Yvette Ramirez, playing the role of Tish.
2. Angela Arnold and Yvette Ramirez exchange thoughts on death. 3. Michael Provan, Helma Clark, and Yvette Ramirez, in a crucial scene.

Convocation Speakers

Besides the three photographed guest speakers, several were on campus and are due recognition: 1) Dr. Mary Evelyn Blarr-Huey, President of Texas Women's University; 2) Ursula Le Guin, Katharine Payne Carnes Lecturer; 3) Bryndis Jenkins, Wesleyan Alumnae, Assistant State Attorney General; 4) Marcia Cochran, Associate Director of the Georgia Conference, Council on Ministries. Convocations are general assembly sessions that are held on Thursday mornings at which noted speakers are invited to address the student body and faculty. They are also open to the public.

Former First Lady Betty Ford

Dr. Rebecca Chopp, Belk Lecturer

Nora Sayre, Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow

Fall Mixer

The Fall Mixer was held, for the second year, behind Jones Dorm. On September 27th, students and their friends from all around gathered at Jones for a party. Guys from the University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, Georgia College, and Mercer University were invited and the turnout was good. The evening was enjoyed by all and we look forward to the third annual mixer on campus!

1. What are Ana Fernandez and Lynn Abney up to now? 2. The photographer takes time out to talk with Wesleyan student, Amy Potter. 3. Stephanie Hooks certainly understands the meaning of a mixer. 4. Melissa Tolbert and Missy Millwood pose for a quick picture with friends.

Fall Mixer

1. Margaret Baldwin and Stan Stinson enjoy one another's company. 2. Roz Evans, Kelli Goolsby, and Kathleen experience their first Wesleyan mixer! 3. Amy Stephans and friend dance the night away. 4. Melissa Long points an accusing finger.

Homecoming

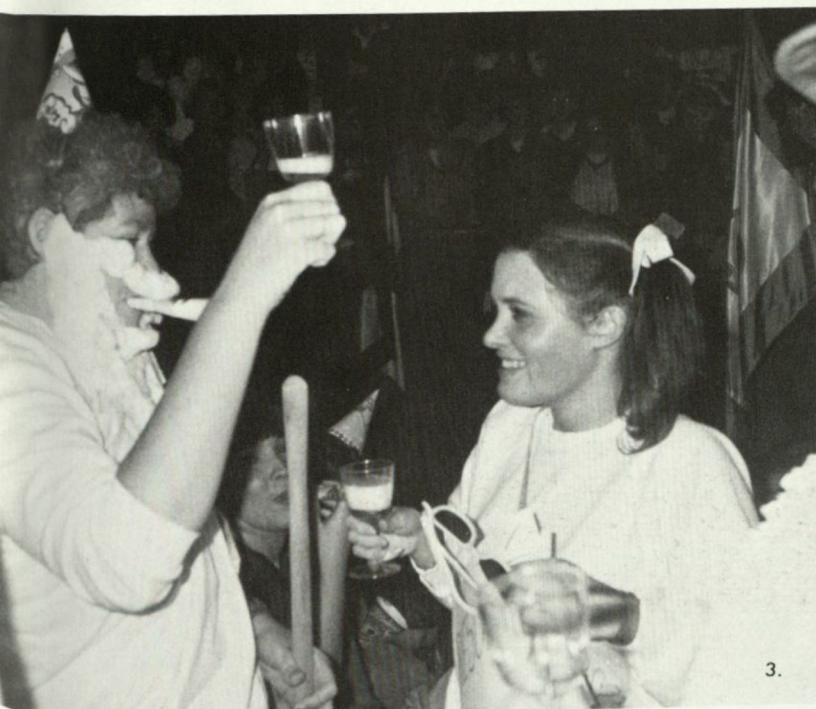

Homecoming is held the last weekend in October to welcome back the graduates of the previous May. High on the list of social events is the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the presentation of her court at the Homecoming Dance. The air tingles with excitement during the preprocess activities of the Homecoming pep rally, Color Rush, the Championship and Consolation Soccer games, and election of the Queen. The crowning ceremony around the fountain is as suspenseful and thrilling as that of Miss Universe.

1. Halloween witches who break up classes with their antics and candy treats. 2. Consolation Soccer game between Green Knights and Purple Knights. P.K.'s won! 3. An excited Tri-K, Jennifer Kane, exalts over her team's winning the Championship Soccer game.

Homecoming

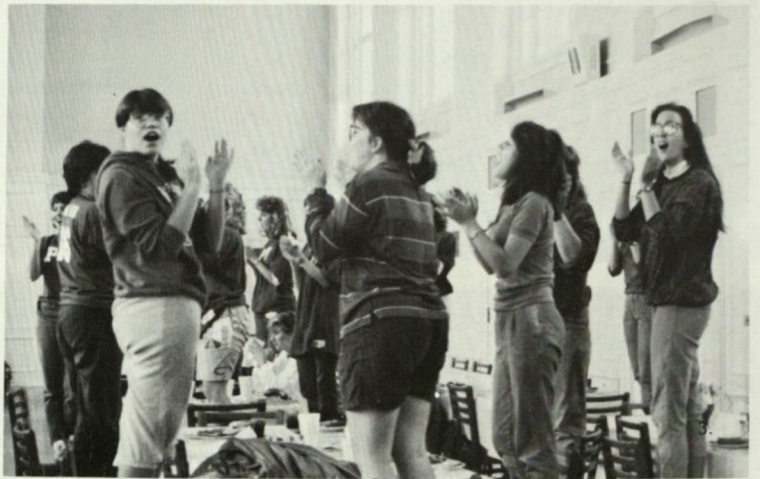

1. Joanne Brownlee and Sally Griffin show "witch" way to go at the Halloween Banquet.
2. Members of the Tri-K class sing goodbye to their sister class.
3. Sharon Clark and Betty Greene toast their final Homecoming as students.
4. Homecoming Queen, Lynn Lasseter, proudly beams at the camera's eye!

Color Rush

Purple Knights Round Up Color Rush

1. Proud P.K.'s give a royal cheer as winners of Color Rush. 2. "How 'bout them P.K.'s?" 3. P.K.'s discuss "Round Table" strategy. 4. Tri-K's obviously are not "resting in peace."

Color Rush

Color Rush involves spirit, competition, and split-second timing among the four classes. Each class is poised outside the Auditorium and when the whistle blows, the students take off like marathon runners. They have two minutes to reach their section of the quad on the soccer field, display their class as quickly as possible, and cheer uproariously before the whistle sounds again. Judges determine which class showed the best spirit and color representation. Again, the whistle blows and each class has one minute to clear the field of all colors and all people.

This year's freshman, the Purple Knights, were the winners!!!

1. P.K.'s proudly display their shield of honor. 2. Two Green Knights demonstrate "the wearing of the green." 3. Two Golden Hearts prove that "all that glitters IS gold."

Soccer

Tri-K's take Soccer Cup!

Soccer season starts in mid-September and ends on Homecoming Day with the Championship and Consolation games. This year, the Championship game was between the Golden Hearts and the Tri-K Pirates. It was a close game but the Tri-K's proved themselves "MAH-VEL-OUS!" The Consolation game pitted Green Knights against the Purple Knights, with the P.K.'s grabbing the prize. Soccer is to Wesleyan as football is to most colleges, and enthusiasm runs rampant during the brief season.

1. P.K.'s and Tri-K's battle it out on the field. 2. Baby Kay comes from a "swinging" class! 3. Christy Powell gets a kick out of life. 4. Margaret McKnight and Virginia Bowman entertain during half time.

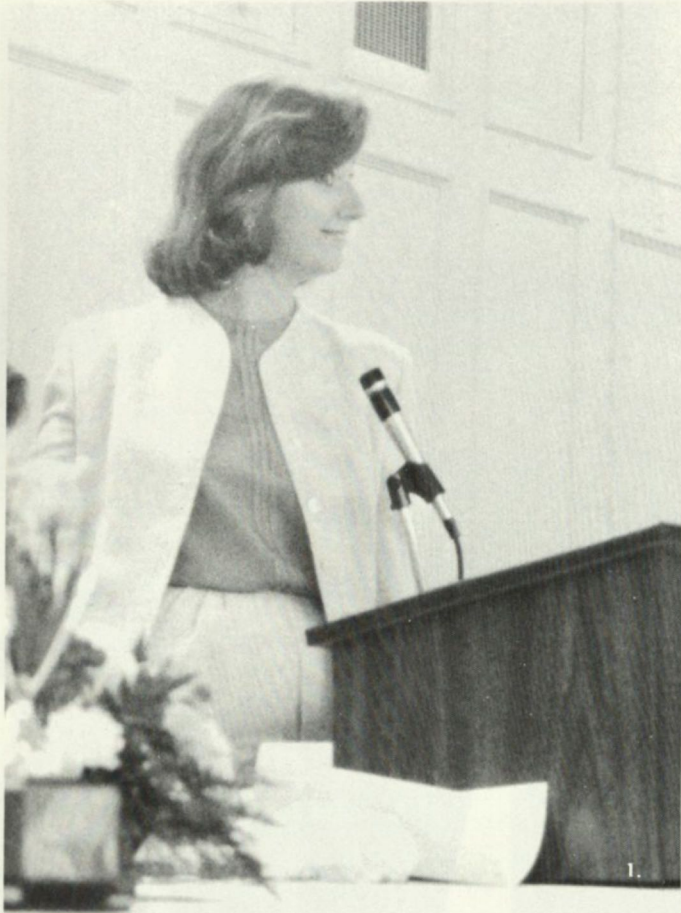

Homecoming

The sister class of the returning graduates of the previous May is responsible for decorating the dining hall and welcoming back their "Big Sister" class. This year the P.K.'s of 1986 were the returning class, so the Green Knights of 1988 hosted the banquet. The program consisted of speeches by all four Class Presidents and the returning senior Class President. After lunch, each class sings its original, sentimental song in honor of the returning class and the graduating seniors. The banquet closes with the entire group joining hands and singing, in unison, the Alma Mater.

1. Returning P.K.'s, Dawn Miller and Elizabeth Hasty, show their excitement in being back at Wesleyan. 2. Virginia Bowman, President of the freshman class, provides the group with insights on the Purple Knight tradition — old and new. 3. Returning P.K., Tammy Mullis, listens attentively while class songs are sung.

Homecoming

1. Returning P.K. Class President, Dena Jones, reflects on memories of Wesleyan and realities of life after Wesleyan. 2. Billie Powell is definitely giving the speaker her undivided attention! 3. Group of Green Knights sing their sentimental song to enthralled listeners.

Homecoming

This year's Homecoming Queen was Lynn Lasseter, and her Court consisted of two representatives from every class, including Day and Continuing Studies Students. Being crowned Homecoming Queen is the dream of many Wesleyan students, but only one girl receives this top honor each year.

1. Lynn Lasseter and her escort are congratulated by Dr. Quiambao. 2. Lynn poses for a picture with Dr. Quiambao, this year's master of ceremonies. 3. Homecoming Queen and part of her Court, with escorts.

150th Birthday

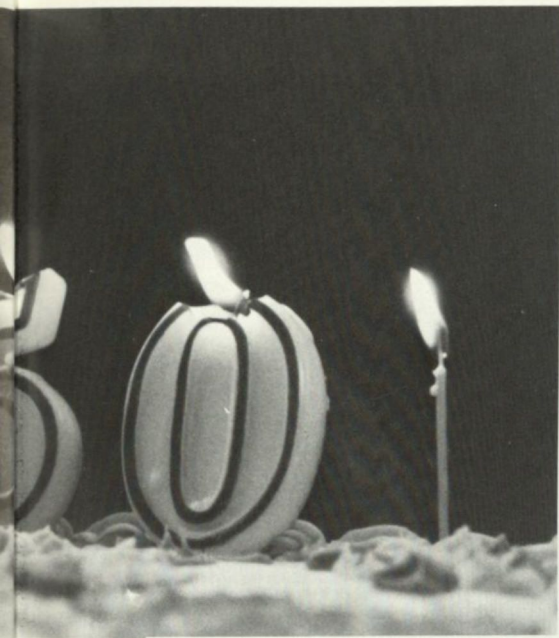

Fall semester continued the celebration of Wesleyan's Sesquicentennial Year. The Woman of Achievement theme was exemplified with Convocation speakers such as Betty Ford, Dr. Mary Evelyn Blagg-Huey, Ursula Le Guin, and Nora Sayre, all sharing their formulas for success with students and faculty. A gigantic birthday party was held on stage at Porter Auditorium at which significant memorabilia were inserted in the time capsule. An impressive ceremony marked the sealing of the capsule, as the Women of Today wondered how the Women of One Hundred Fifty years later at Wesleyan will react to the contents of the capsule when it is opened in 2136.

1. Wesleyan celebrates her 150th Birthday! 2. Dr. Ackerman speaks to students and faculty about the Time Capsule, to be opened on Wesleyan's 300th Birthday. 3. Invitation to Wesleyan's Birthday party, designed by art student, Ana Fernandez. 4. A Birthday cake and Birthday present, in honor of our dear Wesleyan, herself.

My 150th Birthday, Wesleyan!!

1. Dr. Grinstead accepts Dean McMinn's gift to the Time Capsule. 2. Wesleyan students sure are eager to get into that scrumptious Birthday cake!

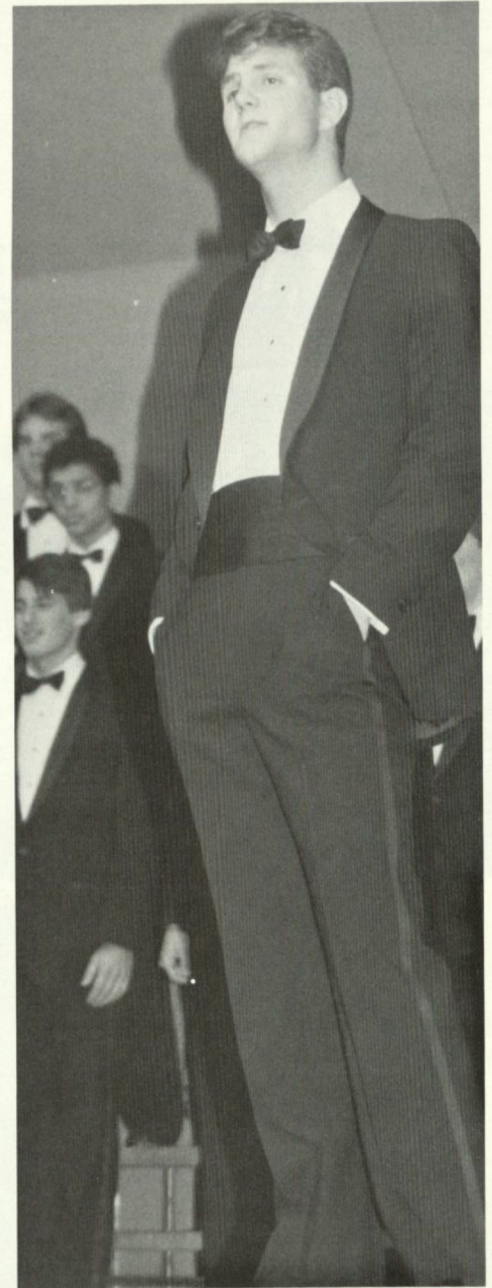

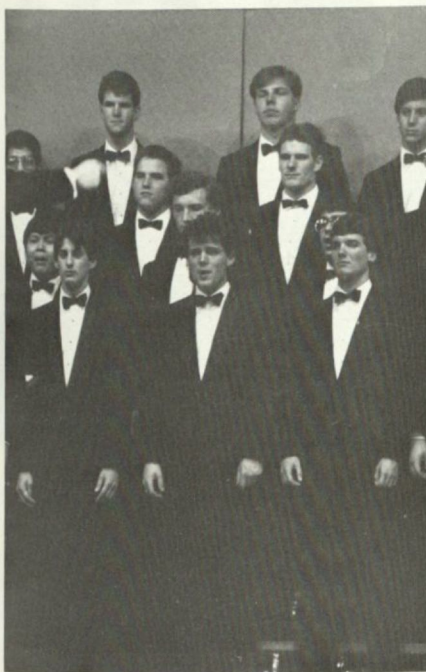

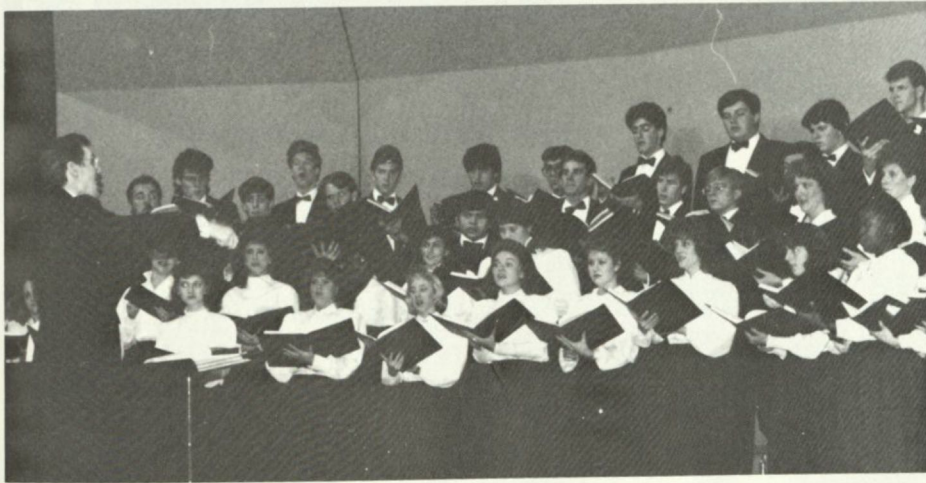

Comedy at the Snack Bar

Denise Moses was one of several comedians who performed at the Snack Bar. With her many impersonations, she spread laughter and fun among the Wesleyannes. Besides Ms. Moses, several other comedians joined us in the Snack Bar: they are, Stuart Moss and Rondell Sheridan.

Cornell Glee Club

The Cornell University Glee Club, one of America's oldest and most widely acclaimed male choruses, performed at Wesleyan on Thursday, January 15. They also included a special collaboration with our fine Glee Club.

Knights of the Square Table

Purple stands for royalty. The Purple Knights upheld this noble distinction throughout their stunt. Concerned with his six squabbling knights, King Wesley of Medea orders them away from the kingdom until they learned to get along among each other. The knights are unhappy with the situation each thinking the sentence is an absurd idea. Upon arriving in the woods, they realize they are lost! At this time, they meet Wilhemina the Wizard. She teaches them that although everyone is different, we all have princely qualities. On the same token, the wizard returns them back to the king and kingdom; where they all engage in an imperial finale.

1. Harold reads King Wesley's orders to send his knights away from the kingdom.
2. King Wesley of Medea singing in hope that his knights would get along just a little bit more.
3. Sir Serendipity shares his wisdom with Sir Ace and Sir Frances.

1. Sir Hank makes his debut with a "clonk" in his chew can.
2. Thank goodness for the wizard and his nymphs; the knights return home.
3. Trees can smile and dance, too!
4. As Sir Serendipity would say, "Peace, my brothers."
5. Sir Ace is a rather impressionable knight wherever he goes.

Green Knights Take It All!

Stunt Cup & Spirit Cup

The Green Knights had a memorable evening as they made history by winning both the Stunt and Spirit Cup. The Spirit Cup was retired as the GK's won it for the third consecutive year. For the first time, the class of 1988 felt the excitement and pride that comes with winning the coveted Stunt Cup.

Mrs. Hollingsworth "knows" she witnessed a murder last night on West 59th; "there were guns and knives; chains, torn clothing, fighting and shoving among this gang with gruesome faces."

However, after continued investigation by the Inspector and his right hand man, GK 1988, she soon begins to realize that she has not seen a murder at all; instead, a "perfectly legitimate and organized gang," according to the blind man, practicing for a dance competition to be held on Saturday night. As the gang dances towards perfection, Mrs. Hollingsworth sees that her imagination got out of hand. The Hollingsworths acknowledged the gang's hard work and danced along to an awesome finale!

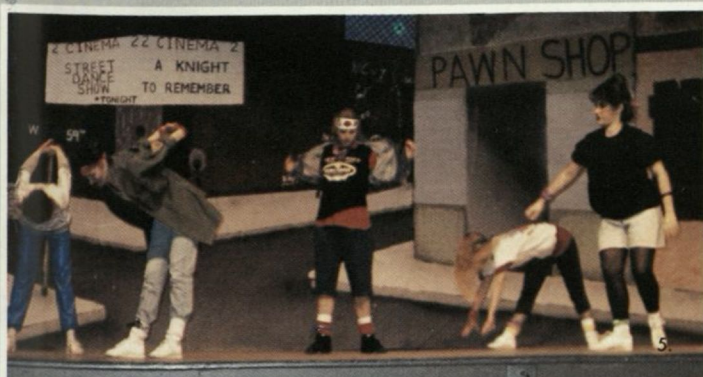

1. Knight life on West 59th.
2. The blind man's solo explains everything.
3. Mrs. Hollingsworth is distraught when she visits the Inspector.

1. "Two cups — no problem!"
2. "How can a blind man be an eyewitness to a crime!"
3. One of the hotter areas on West 59th.
4. "Whatever the time — whatever the crime, the police force wasn't there!"
5. The gang warms-up for the dance competition.

1987... The Party of the Century

The Golden Hearts were "excited" about the expected social occasion of the year at the Richmond Estates. The party was hosted by the very successful Dr. Richard Richmond, escorted by Miss Melody Butts, the hostess. The party is the first viewing for the much talked about Pre-Columbian art collection of Dr. Richmond. When Richie Richmond's college sweetheart arrives, memories of his dreams to be a doctor made him realize he was not truly happy as a social extrovert.

We joined their excitement as Richard realizes happiness occurs when you follow your dreams. This was a timely theme, as the Golden Hearts get ready for graduation.

1. Mr. Woody Butts and Ms. Smith from the rodeo are guests to the party.
2. Melody reminds Richard about his behavior at the party!
3. Elizabeth and Perkins make sure the estate is up to Melody's standards.

Spring Break

New Orleans, La.

The Council on Religious Concerns and Southern Seminar sponsor a Spring Break trip every year to various Southern cities of interest. This year, the students chose New Orleans, La., as their vacation spot. The trip is completely paid for by the students themselves, through fund-raisers and the selling of advertisements to local merchants to be placed in the STUNT program. Jody Bethea was this year's chairman, and Mr. Edward Eikner was the chaperone. The group included: Jody Bethea, Lynn Abney, Donna Waites, Lisa Shiveler, Lorie Patterson, Laura Taylor, Laura Reid, Margaret Baldwin, Stacy Collins, Beth Herndon, Kecia Whitlock, Dawn Christian, Mandy Harris, and Edna Brannen.

1. Beth Herndon, Lynn Abney, and Stacy Collins pack up for the cab ride back to the airport. 2. The P.A.'s, (Stacy Collins, Lynn Abney, and Margaret Baldwin), having fun at Pat O's!!! 3. The drummer gets ready for a set at Preservation Hall.

Alumnae Weekend

Alumnae Weekend had much to offer in the many events that involved staff, students, and returning members from previous graduating classes. The turnout was tremendous, and the conviviality that prevailed demonstrated to all that sisterhood at Wesleyan has been the cornerstone of her success down through the years.

The Candlelight Ceremony, which welcomes the seniors into the Alumnae Association, was impressive and awesome. Special honors were bestowed on Dean Kayron McMinn and Dr. Jacob Quiambao. The air hummed with excitement and laughter as friends greeted one another and later assembled in the dining hall for the scrumptious luncheon. The Wesleyan family continues to grow and, like all big families, her members look forward to being together on occasions such as this annual event.

1. Dean McMinn models a Golden Heart sweat-shirt, given to her by the Class of 1987. 2. Mr. Herrington stands for a special recognition. 3. The Alumnae Club presents Dean McMinn with a special honor. 4. The Class of 1977 gets together for a bite to eat.

Commencement

Commencement activities began on the evening of May 1st with the dedication of a plaque . . . a gift of the Golden Hearts of 1987 to mark the site of the original Wesleyan Conservatory. A Baccalaureate Service followed at Mulberry Street Methodist Church where Dr. Frederick Wilson was the key speaker.

Commencement itself was at 10:00 am on Saturday, May 2nd. United States Senator Sam Nunn, Jr., the senior Senator from Georgia, gave a forceful talk on the challenge and opportunities that await today's college woman. Senator Nunn was given an honorary degree as Doctor of Public Service, which was presented by Mrs. Valeria Murphy, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

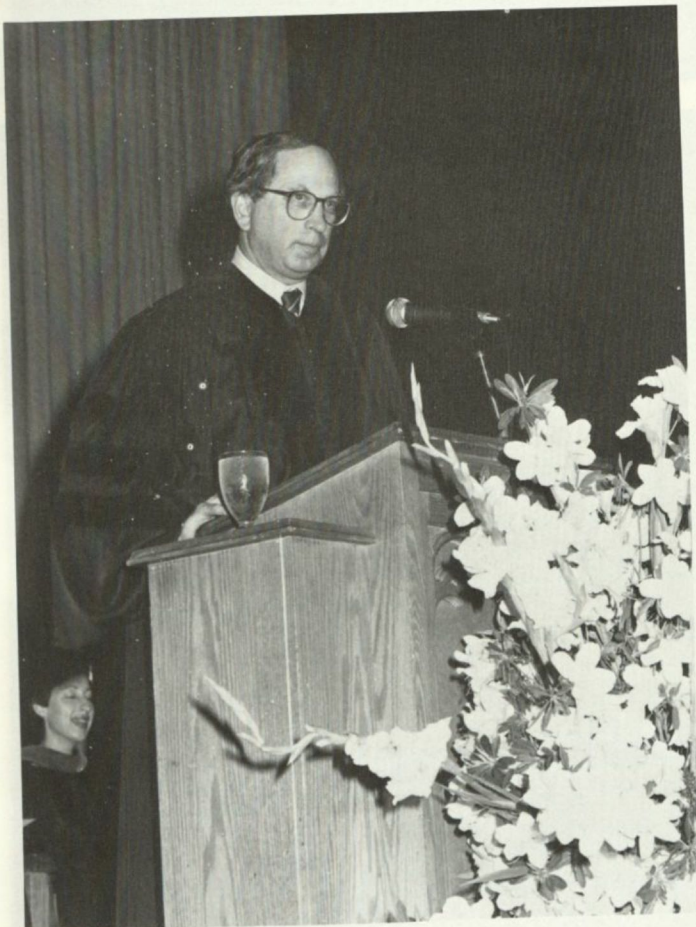

1. Smiles and degrees in hand spell success for Rahat Uppal, Beth Galvin, Liz Gordon, Robin Wood, and Gay Garrett. 2. Lisa Morgan is congratulated by Mrs. Valeria Murphy. 3. Seniors are hooded just before receiving their degrees.

Commencement

1. Seniors and hooders march toward the Auditorium. 2. Senator Nunn delivers his message to graduates. 3. Graduates Jill Amos and Chikato Suzuki congratulate each other.

Commencement

1. Cara Marotti has her sister, Mia, as her hooder. 2. Ana Fernandez, Jr. Marshall, Directs Liz Gordon, Betty Greene, Leila Harley, Rita Harris, and Sharon Clark on marching to stage for their diplomas. 3. Dean McMinn places honorary doctorate hood on Senator Sam Nunn as Mrs. Murphy and Dr. Ackerman look on.

Commencement

1. Karol Cheng reflects on pending graduation. 2. Dean McMinn prepares to present the candidates for graduation to Dr. Ackerman. 3. Mrs. Valeria Murphy shakes hands with Lisa Rosemond.

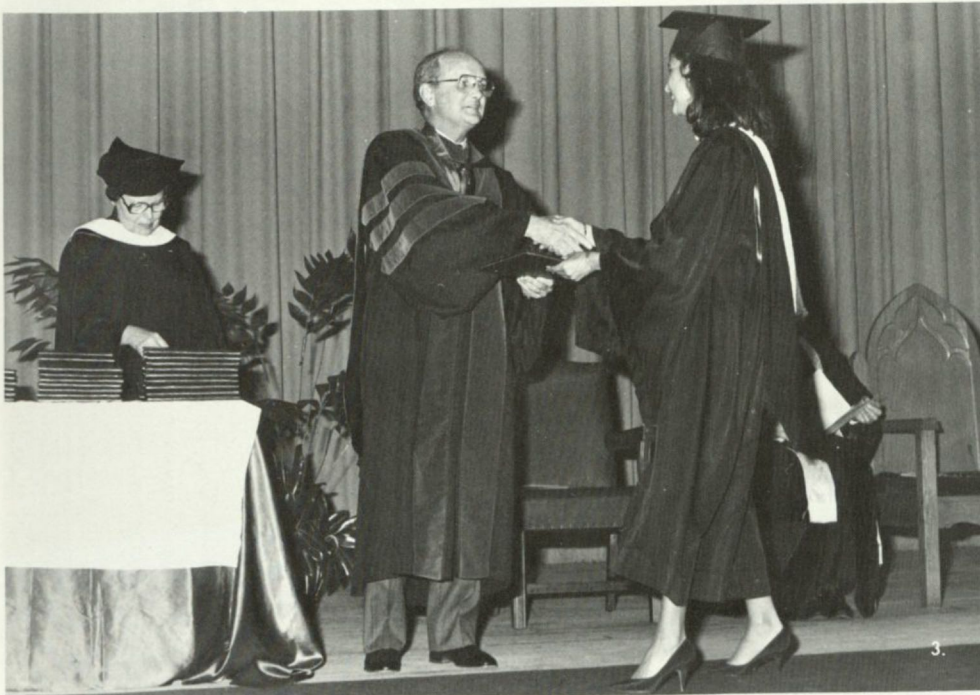

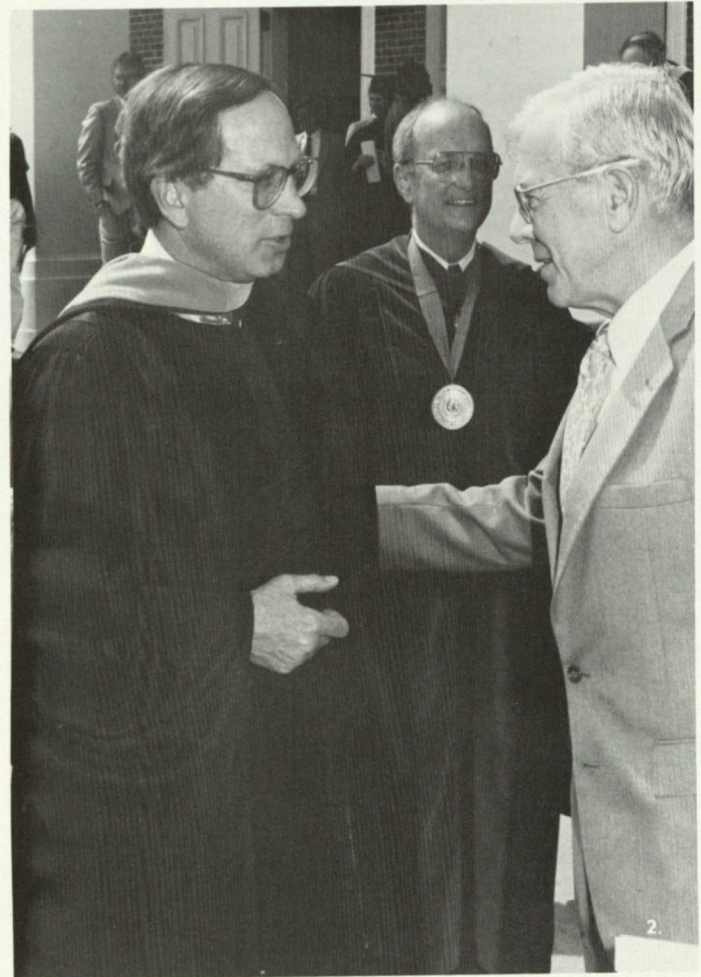

Commencement

1. Cindy Foskey and Lucretia Murphy have something to smile about — they graduated. 2. Mrs. Valeria Murphy exchanges a smile with Rita Harris. 3. Leesa Akins, Jill Amos, Angela Arnold, and Anne Arthur smile for the camera.

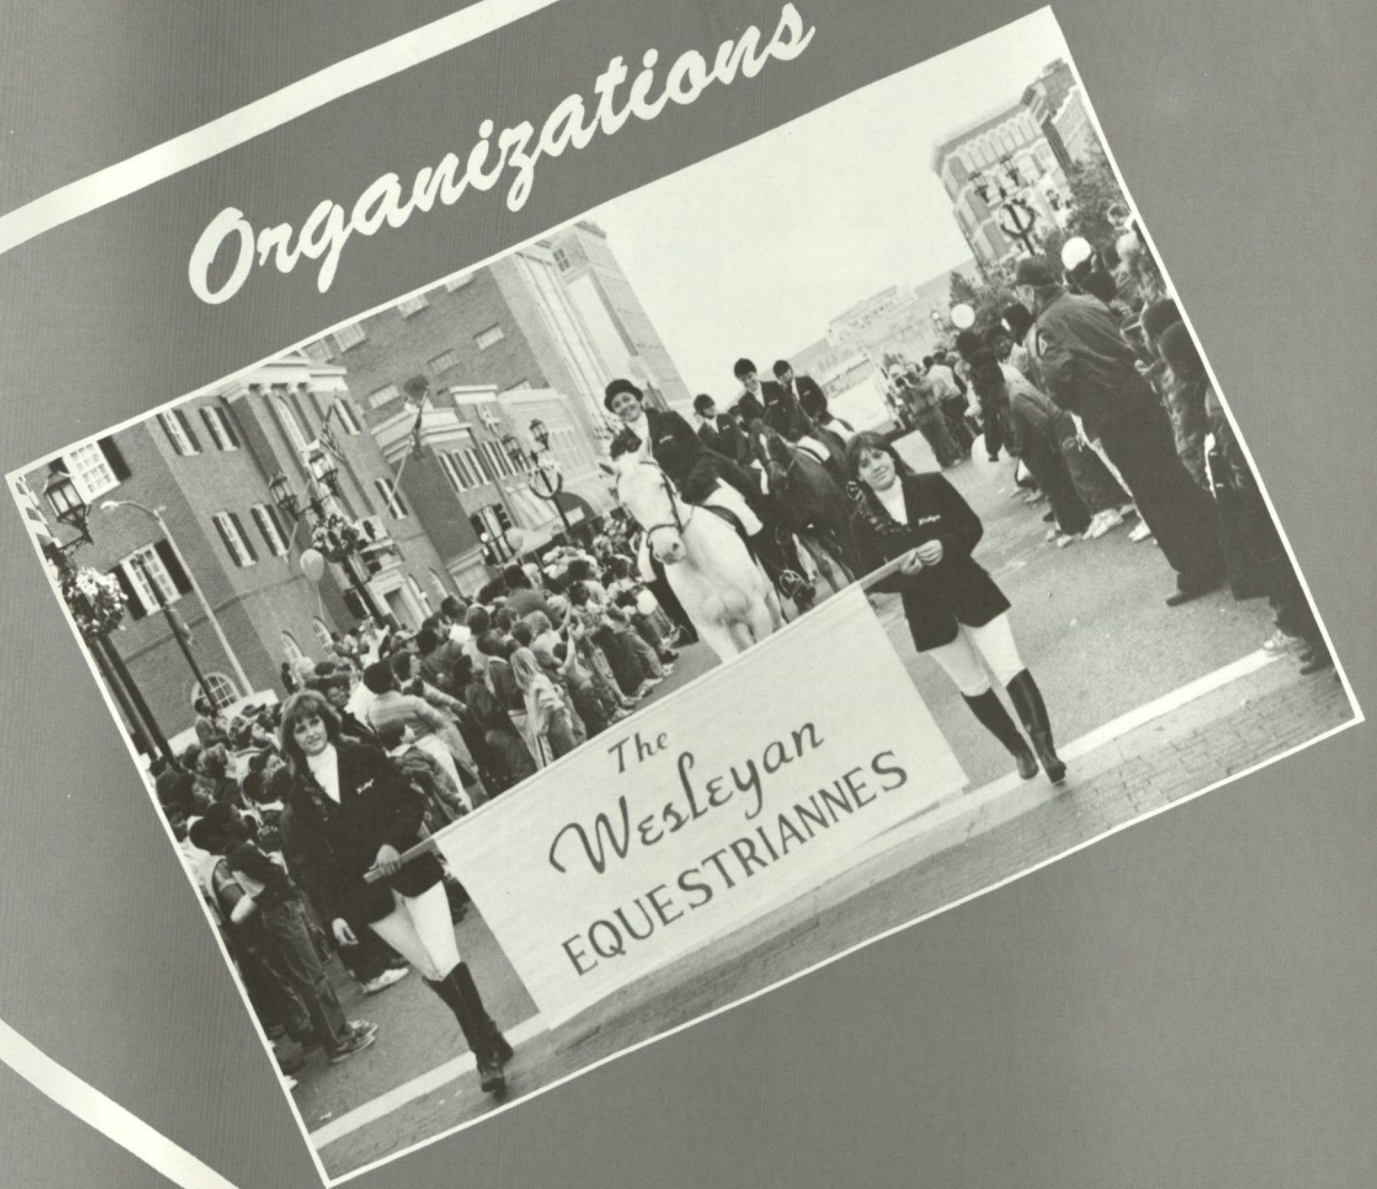

Commencement

1. Kris Kuchinski is greeted by well-wishers. 2. Three "wheels" converge — Senator Sam Nunn, Dr. Robert Ackerman, and General John Galvin. 3. Miss Ann Munck, Dr. Ackerman, and Senior Lorena Bryant, on stage.

mortar board

Membership in Mortar Board, the National Honor Society for College Women (and recently expanded to include men), is one of the highest honors that Wesleyan bestows on qualified upcoming seniors. The Crown and Scepter Chapter of the organization was founded at Wesleyan in 1971 and has been a vital part of campus life since that time. The nine students selected for induction into Mortar Board for the 1986-1987 have demonstrated scholarship, leadership, and service in keeping with Mortar Board's objectives. They maintained visibility on campus by documenting attendance at Convocations, sponsored four College Bowl quizzes, and soliciting and preparing exam gift baskets from parents who wished to cheer their daughters during preparation for final exams each semester. In addition, they awarded two scholarships to rising juniors. It is significant that seven Mortar Board members were graduated with honors.

1. Mrs. Floyd, Carol McMillen, and Dean McMinn discuss this year's Mortar Board scholarship nominees. 2. Lorie Patterson is also a newly inducted Mortar Board member. 3. The P.K. quiz bowl team performs for the Prospective Students.

What makes this year significant out of the 151 year history of Wesleyan? Is it another year of sisterhood and tradition? To each of us, the meaning is unique under our alma mater.

Wesleyan's progress reflects our energy and zeal. We are the tradition of women growing wiser and more confident in the choices made and paths taken. On the horizon are our hopes and on the foreground are the bridges that make our dreams come true.

Wesleyan is . . . looking back, living today, and facing tomorrow.

To those who shared their support, their faith, and their love, thank you. To my best friend, Lynn Abney, thank you for living the challenges with me.

In Memory of

Dr. Earl F. Bargainnier

Wesleyan lost one of its shining lights with the sudden death on January 4, 1987 of Dr. Earl Franklin Bargainnier, a Fuller E. Calloway Professor of English Language and Literature, and a professor in the English Department at Wesleyan for years.

"... and still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew." This excerpt from Goldsmith's "The Deserted Village" must have been inspired by a person of Dr. Bargainnier's vast knowledge. He was a reservoir for English lore; for detective stories involving induction and deduction (in the manner of Agatha Christie and like counterparts); and for Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. He was a par excellence teacher and a bona fide friend.

Students who learned under Dr. Bargainnier through the years should consider themselves privileged people because he had the knack of making his material remain alive by communicating his love for and familiarity with the various subjects. He was an accessible advisor to students as his was an "open door" policy. He was always there when needed, and his guidance was sound and humane.

"To have known him is to love him" and we all mourn his sudden passing. His memory and his shared knowledge will keep him alive in the hearts of all who were fortunate enough to call him our professor and friend.
